Informational Text Structure Chant

Nonfiction is true information, and it always has the same parts:
the main idea and information, information, information about the main idea.

The main idea! That's what all the information is about.

Once we know the main idea,
then we need information;
that's details, details, details all about the Main Idea.
